SCHOOL SONG

Oh, here's to dear old H. A.,
The noblest school of all!
Beneath her flying colors
We'll answer to her call.
It matters not the hardships,
The studies or the work;
Not one of H. A.'s students
Will ever quit or shirk.

Academy's bright records
Will ne'er by us be marred.
Academy's athletics
Her standards ne'er are scared.
For we are all behind her,
Supporting one and all,
An our boasts are forever
"Old H. A. shall not fall!"

DEDICATION

We respectfully dedicate this issue of
"The Ripple" to our principal
RICHARD DUMMER
in gratitude for the wonderful help and guidance he has given us in these three years

THE FACULTY

Richard Albert Dummer

Ph. B. Brown

M. A. Columbia

Mr. Dummer is very popular both as a principal and as a teacher. We are indebted to him for raising H. A.'s standards. We hope that he will keep up the good work. He was born in Trinidad, Colorado, but now makes his home in Weld, Maine. His inexhaustible supply of stories of Weld make his classes interesting as well as instructive. The students wonder how much of these stories are true. Even the thickest student can understand math when the problems are translated into terms of Willie and Johnny instead of "x" and "y". An engaging personality and a persuasive talker, he has caused many a person to change his future plans. This summer he plans to return to Weld and open a boating business. Sometime in the future he plans to retire there and operate a summer cottage business.

Ella Boody Philpot

A. B. Bates

Miss Philpot is our foreign language teacher. However since there are so many students in school she also teaches some English classes. She has directed the Freshman and Sophomore play this year along with her other work. She has a natural talent for directing plays of any kind and she has put on some of the best assembly programs of the year. She is also a wonderful cook. One of her wishes is that she could see the whole Freshman initiation program. Since the Sub-Freshmen are not allowed to see the initiation, she must stay with them. She loves to travel. Her home is in North Windham and according to her it is the vacation spot of Maine. During her summer vacation she travels. She wants to go to France someday. Wouldn't it be wonderful if she would take the French class with her?

Arlene Caroline Baker

Farmington State Teachers College
Junior High Certificate

Miss Baker came back to us again this year. She now maintains order in the Sophomore room. Teaching Freshman math and science, and Sub-Freshman history and geography occupies most of her time. Her free time is spent reading books and listening to sweet music. We wonder why she goes to Wilton so often. True, it is her home town but is that the real reason?

Hazel Marie Brewer

A. B. Colby

Miss Brewer of Waterville is our English teacher. This is her second year at H. A. She has six English classes a day. As if that wasn't enough, she coaches the Burton and Hamilton prize speakers, the Senior Play, and directs the Dramatic Club. Her hobbies are bridge, skiing, camping and traveling. Although strict in her classroom discipline she is very popular outside of class. When asked what she wanted most in the world, she fervently replied "shorter school days" and we agree with her.

Ivan Bliss Bubar

B. S. University of Maine

Mr. Bubar comes from a place "outside of the state", Aroostook County, and he certainly knows how to raise potatoes as all Aroostookans do. Since he had no mother state he adopted Vermont and he seems to be completely satisfied with it. He is our agricultural teacher and can tell the boys how to raise crops and animals at a profit. However, he is no carpenter. According to our source of information, he cannot build a simple cupboard. We advise him to learn if he wants to save his money. As coach of the cross country and boys' basketball teams, he has done an excellent job. His spare time is divided between growing potatoes, going home, and attending U. of M. football games. He wishes for a million dollars. Don't we all?

Mabel Simpson Bubar

B. S. Farmington State Teachers College

Mrs. Bubar is back with us again this year. Now that she is a "Mrs." H. A. would like to feel that it had something to do with this happy marriage because it was here that she met her husband. She is very business-like and efficient but we know that she is also a social butterfly. She has taught the home economics girls dress making and cooking this year and their cooking lessons have been put to good use at the F. F. A. banquets. Mrs. Bubar coached a girls' championship basketball team this year and is to be congratulated on her excellent work.

Richard Peter Pippin

A. B. University of Maine

Mr. Pippin joined the faculty for his second year. He is the history and economics instructor. His informal classroom discussions and lectures make history much easier for the students. His other activities include coaching boys' and girls' cub teams (which have had a very successful season), directing the debating club, and filling in wherever he is needed. His good nature and helpfulness make him very popular with the students. He always has a joke or story on hand ready for use if the lesson for the day is very dull. His hobbies are "Ricky", electric trains, baseball and ship models. May you like H. A. so much that you will not want to return to your home in Rockville, Connecticut.

Elizabeth Marie Morse

A. B. Bates

Mrs. Morse is with us for the first time this year. Her home is in Saco and she can compare it with Weld any time she is asked. Her subjects are math and Latin. What a combination! They are both Greek to some people. Besides teaching she has coached the cheerleaders this year. Everyone was glad to find that she had no time to match that hair. She is the motherly type and she listens to all of our problems of which there are many. Besides all this, she plays the piano very well and likes winter sports. Her wish is to have some spare time. We heartily welcome her.

SENIOR PORTFOLIO

GEORGE WARREN BAKER

Vocational

Palmyra

Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Letter 3, 4; Touch Football 2, 3; Baseball 2; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Class Treasurer 1; Senior Play cast.

George, our mischief maker, is one of our sunniest classmates. Playing jokes on the girls, playing basketball and resting are his favorite ways of amusing himself. If you keep your sense of humor, George, you will make life worthwhile.

LAURA SAVILLA BARDEN

Civic

Hartland

Softball 2, 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Hacomac Club 3, 4; Ripple Board 3; French Club 2; Dramatic Club 4; Senior Play, Make-up Committee; Class History.

Laura is our dance fiend. She had rather dance than eat. She also prefers Canaan to Hartland and for that we are sorry. Without Laura we wouldn't have any food for our sweet tooth or tales of reckless rides. Her school work sometimes suffers but she quickly recovers and gets "on the ball" again. When Laura is happy, her giggle is heard through the room. It serves as our guide to her mood for the day. If she becomes a secretary, we hope her giggle will not be lost.

EMILY MAE BLACKDEN

Vocational

Hartland

Hacomac Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club 2.

Emily is the most unobtrusive girl we know. She is so quiet that we scarcely notice her. She is never noisy nor does she become angry like the rest of us but remains quiet and serene. We think she is a grand sport to take all the teasing that she does without showing any temper. She, also, desires to become a secretary and we know she would never make her boss angry.

RUTH ENA BRITTAIN

Civic

River de Chute, N. B.

Bristol High School; Hartland Academy: Basketball 3, 4; Softball 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3; French Club 2, 3, 4; A. A. 3, 4; Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Librarian 2; Senior Play cast; Class Ode.

Ruth Ena is our girl from Canada. She has been with us for three years and we have become very fond of her. She can always be found in the Senior room at noon reading letters she has just received from "up North". Lighthearted and gay she keeps our spirits soaring. Getting back from her vacations on time seems to be her weak point and how we envy that weak point.

MALCOLM MOORE BURRELL

Civic

Hartland

Cross Country 2, 3; Hi-Y 3; Orchestra 3; Invocation.

Mickey returned to H. A. this year to get his diploma. He was one of many who learned, while serving his country, that education was an important thing. Mickey sometimes astonishes us with his big words and foreign phrases. We wonder if some cute mademoiselle taught them to him. Older than most of us, he is still a good mixer. We have enjoyed his company very much.

MILDRED LOTTIE CARSON

Civic

St. Albans

French Club 2, 3, 4; Debating Club 2, 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Glee Club 3; Hacomac Club 4; Softball 4.

Mildred is a faithful and loyal student of H. A. She has shown dramatic ability in the Senior Play in which she took the part of the maid. Her quick temper has furnished us much enjoyment. She works hard at school and should make good at college. Good luck, "Millie".

ARTHUR RAY CHADBOURNE

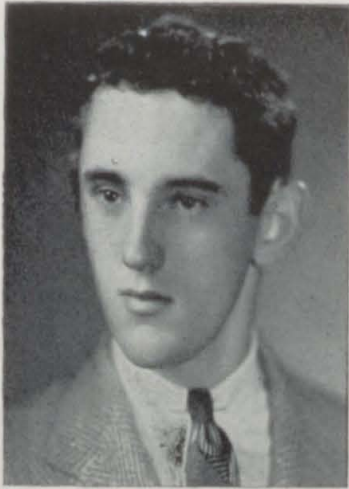

Civic

Cambridge

Student Council 1, 3; Victory Corps Council 2; Cross Country 1; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Prize Speaking 2; Alternate 3; Basketball 2; Mgr. 3; Baseball 2; Senior Play Cast.

Arthur is our smoothie. Soft spoken and slow-motioned he catches the girl's eyes every time. He is one of our returned veterans, and we had just got acquainted with him when he decided he preferred to be tutored. Guess he couldn't stand the noise.

ARTHUR ALAN CHAPMAN

Civic

St. Albans

Glee Club 1, 3; F. F. A. 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Touch Football 2, 3, 4.

Arthur believes in hard work or else he wants plenty of cash. He had rather work weekends than rest. We would like some of his energy. A star baseball pitcher, we hope that someday he can play big league baseball. It would certainly be an honor to us. He might make a better umpire, though, with his quick temper. Whatever he does we know he'll be a success.

MARY LOUISE CHAPMAN

Civic

St. Albans

Softball 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; French Club 2, 3, 4; Student Council 2, 3, 4; Secretary 4; Office 2; Latin Club 3, 4; Hacomaac Club 4; Senior Play cast; Class Gifts.

Petite Mary is the class sweetheart. She is slim and small and has lovely dark fringed eyes. She is very shy but she can and does make friends easily. She is very studious and always has her work done on time. As Paula in the Senior Play she was "tops".

EARL PHILIP CULLY

Civic

Earl came back to H. A. to make up a half year's work that was lost when he entered the service and to get his diploma. He was mentioned in the '44 Ripple but we think he deserves honorable mention again. He helped to make our Senior Play a success and for that we wish to express our thanks.

LESLIE LEROY DURAN

Les, a demon for study and work, likes to ride around in the jeep with "Teddy" and others. That jeep has seen a great many miles of road. Debating and winter sports are his hobbies. He makes friends easily and holds on to them which is something not many can do. We all wish him luck at the U. of M.

STANLEY HERBERT DYER

Palmyra

Baseball 1, 2; Manager 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; F. F. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2; Prize Speaking 3.

"Stan" has had the most ill luck of all of us. He has kept his pleasant disposition and kindness through it all. He certainly has some "backbone". He and his pal George are almost inseparable. Stan has plenty of school spirit, too. That is something that has declined in many of us. He is present at every school function and adds life to the party. Basketball and trips to Newport and Pittsfield are his amusement in his spare time. Good luck in the future, Stan.

Softball, 2, 3, 4; Hacomac Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club 2; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 1; Office 3.

"Barb" is our source of candy and sweets. She always has some goody in her pocket which she always shares with us. Movies, sports, and riding in a certain car are her favorite pastime. We also think she is going to be the first girl in the class to be married. The "he" is already picked out.

Maggie has been active in all things since she entered high school four years ago. She has endeared herself to all of us. A good sport with a grand sense of humor, a sympathetic friend, a great tease, all go to describe her. If she keeps her good nature throughout life, she will be successful in all that she attempts.

That tall lean gent with the easy temperament is Teddy Hersey. He keeps the seniors laughing with his spontaneous humor. We all respect his sign, "Genius at work, be quiet". A star debater, a sports enthusiast and an authority on law is Teddy. We wish him lots of luck as a future lawyer.

Vocational

Glee Club 1, 2, 3; F. F. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 3; Touch Football 3, 4; Dramatic Club 2.

In school, Earle is very quiet and studious except when something displeases him and then he is one of the loudest groaners. We have finally discovered what his ideal girl should be like. Eloise seems to be the answer. Freckle-faced Earle is a bus driver, too. He keeps his bus in perfect repair, even if he has to use haywire to do it. He plans to be a mechanic and we think he is getting a good start.

Pat loves everything but school. Roller skating, ice skating, dancing, and basketball games all rate high on her list of activities. We all love to tease her about her red hair, and sometimes the temper that matches it arises. Pat also keeps us posted on all the local news. She cheerfully does everything we ask her to do. Good luck to a grand sport and classmate.

Dale is our tall man who lives above the clouds. His feet are the only ballast he has. Poetry and music are only a few of his accomplishments. His frequent trips to Cambridge have us wondering. Dale plans to have a farm that will top all farms. It will be so mechanized that he won't have to work at all. Here's hoping he succeeds and revolutionizes farming.

Ina has been with us only one year but she has made many friends. She is fast becoming the star chemist at H. A. Now she can tell you how to spill acid or douse yourself with water. She is a good sport, a true friend and we wish her success in her nursing career.

JAMES WILFRED MILLS

Civic

St. Albans

Junior Red Cross Council 1; Glee Club 1, 3; Touch Football 3, 4; F. F. A. 3; Basketball 3; Ripple Board 4; Student Council 4; Senior Play Business Manager; Class Gifts.

James is one of the noisy members of the class. How he jumps and blushes when the teachers speak to him! His mischievous ways and sense of humor have won for him many friends. During activity periods he can usually be found telling stories to Freddie and Allan. He was one of the members who made our senior play a financial success. He has a two-sided personality. On the surface he is very lighthearted and gay but underneath he is earnest and thoughtful. He makes decisions quickly. He wants to be a forester. We hope he doesn't get lost in the woods.

Blaine appears to be the quiet and aloof member of the Senior Class. After becoming acquainted with him, however, you find that he is anything but quiet. His disposition often lands him in many predicaments. His good looks will get him by in any situation. A wonderful saxophone player, he has given us many enjoyable moments. We hope he will be another Benny Goodman.

Dick and his brother are our musical family. Dick's trombone is dusted and polished until it shines as much as he does. As for school he is at the top of his class. Ivar is another of our returned servicemen. Tall and good looking, he attracts the attention of all the girls, especially a certain Sophomore. On Friday and Saturday nights he can be found at almost any dance that is at a convenient distance. How we envy Ivar's handwriting. We all wish our writing was as legible. With Ivar around we always know when it's time for the noon bell. As the last minutes approach, on goes his hat, coat, gloves, and rubbers, and when the gong sounds he is the first one out the door. Too bad he isn't always as prompt.

Through her four years at H. A. Lyda has been an outstanding student. It was rews when her name did not appear on the weekly honor roll. She has been active in many extra curricular activities. Efficient manager of the girls' basketball team, prize speaking, Marge in the senior play and director of assembly programs are only a few of the roles she has played. However, she has not been too busy to make friends, to lend others a helping hand and to be an all-round good sport. The qualities which have made her a success at H. A. should help her in her career as a nurse. - Keep up the good work!

"Al" is our most unpredictable senior. His one love is his little green Ford. Al loves to watch the world roll by and forget about his lessons. The last half year he surprised us with those "A's" on his papers. Too bad he hadn't started studying earlier and then he would have been at the top of the class. He is also U. of M. bound.

Freddie is our star sleepyhead. Whenever the teachers look at him he is asleep but he never seems to miss a thing. He always has an answer ready. We would like to know how he does it. SCHOOL SPIRIT

School spirit is the enthusiastic loyalty of a pupil. It is the act of trying to improve your school, to have more people become interested in it, to do all you possibly can for it and make other pupils become more interested in it. To attend all the games and social affairs of the school shows your spirit; the way you act at its functions—if you cheer with all your worth at the games and show your good sportsmanship or if you just sit there and act silly. The attitude you take toward your studies, classes, and teachers shows the kind of school spirit you possess. Your manners also help the school—e. g., if you are polite to everybody at school, people will have more faith in you and your school than if it should be told around that a student or a teacher of H. A. was in the hospital because everyone was in such a rush to be the first one out the door at noon that this person was knocked down the stairs. It never hurts anyone to think of the other person first. Why don't you practice that for a while and see if it isn't much better?

Pat Perry '48

SELF-RELIANCE

Self-reliance is depending upon yourself and not on others. Doing what you think is right and what you want to do is another phase of self-reliance. Have confidence and faith in yourself and the things you do. Express your opinion on matters rather than wait to hear what other people have to say. If nobody has faith in your plans, go ahead and try them anyway. If you fail, you will still have the experience. If you succeed, you will show other people that it could be done. Prove to the world that a person can do something or be somebody without the assistance of others.

FITZ'S FIRST DELIVERY

Fitz walked hurriedly up to Mrs. Leonard's door and timidly knocked. He hadn't liked this errand from the beginning. Why couldn't they have given him a more pleasant message?

Mrs. Leonard came to the door.

"Why, how do you do, and a good morning to you. What can I do for you?" she asked pleasantly with an Irish accent.

"H-h-hello," Fitz managed to answer, and turned red.

Fritz hesitated before giving Mrs. Leonard the telegram. He thought, "Should I give it to her and beat it, or should I give it to her and stay with her? It's bound to be bad news 'cause it's from the Red Cross!"

"I—I have a telegram for Mrs. Leonard. Sign here, please."

Mrs. Leonard hastily signed her name and then hurriedly opened the envelope.

Fitz, standing near, saw a smile of radiant loveliness pass over the lined and worn face of Mrs. Leonard. He decided to stay.

"Won't you come in and have some cookies and milk?" she asked, with a sparkle of happy tears in her faded blue eyes.

"No, I don't believe I will," he answered hurriedly. "I have to get back to my job. You see this is my first job and your message was the first I ever delivered. I sure am glad it was good news. Maybe it will bring me luck."

"I hope so with all my heart," Mrs. Leonard said sincerely.

"Well, b'bye." Fitz hurried down the walk to his bike. He turned and looked back at Mrs. Leonard, who waved the télégram at him. "Gosh, she sure is a nice lady. I'm glad I brought good news instead of bad."

FARMER BROWN KEEPS HOUSE

"Where is my dinner?" angrily inquired Farmer Brown. He and his helper, Joe, had just come in from the fields.

"Why, dear, I don't have it ready yet!" exclaimed his wife.

"Not ready yet! But why not?"

"Well, dear, if you had the work to do that I have, you wouldn't have dinner ready either. If you'd get me a maid, perhaps I could have it ready on time."

"Humph! I guess you can get along without a maid. You always used to after we were first married," retorted her husband.

"I know that, but, remember, we have a bigger house now. Also remember that I have a baby to tend. Besides that, I have the meat in the smokehouse to watch," patiently argued Mrs. Brown.

"Well, I could do what little work you do, and without a maid too. I could also have dinner ready on time," he answered sarcastically.

"All right, dear. Tomorrow you do the housework, take care of the baby, and smoke the meat. I'll go out in the fields with Joe and do your work."

When the morning came, Mrs. Brown went out in the fields to work. Mr. Brown got up to start the housework.

He went to the kitchen and started the fire. Then he went out and started smoking the meat in the smokehouse. Before he had gotten the meat hung up, Jimmy, the baby, woke up and began to cry. He left the meat half-hanging and went to dress the baby and get breakfast. His wife and Joe had already had theirs. By this time he was so excited he didn't know what to do. While Jimmy was eating, or rather messing, Mr. Brown went to see how the smokehouse fire was coming along. To his great dismay it had gone out. He built it again. Then the baby started to cry and he went to see what the trouble was. What he saw made him very discouraged. In his excitement he had put Jimmy's clothes on backwards. By the time these were changed, it was time for dinner. Even though he had been busy all the morning, he still did not have all the dishes done, the floors swept, nor the beds made. Just then his wife and Joe came in from the fields. She was not very tired, but he was all worn out.

"Hello, dear, where is dinner?" she sweetly inquired.

"Er—er—well—you—see—er, well, I don't have it ready," he stammered.

"Not ready!" she exclaimed. "I thought you said—what is that funny smell? It smells like smoke."

"Oh dear! It's the meat in the smokehouse. It must have fallen down, and now it is burning!"

"Well, dear, what do you think now?"

"I guess I was wrong and you were right, dear. You do need a maid. Joe and I will take the afternoon off and go find you one," answered the defeated Mr. Brown.

THE NIGHTMARE OF ENGLISH CLASS

Ring! Ring! Off to another class. Oh, hum, what's the world coming to? Ouch! Stop that pushing! What do you think I am, anyway? Hello, Polly, have you done your English? No, I haven't either, so don't feel badly. Shhhh! I can't hear what Miss Philpot is saying. Oh, oh, we've got to read a novel. Let's see now. Here it is. Oh, how dry! I can't concentrate on a Monday. I feel so sleepy. Guess I'll shut my eyes; they feel so heavy.

Then I was in a daze and a nightmare combined.

I could hear Maggie saying when Royce kicked her skirt, "Now listen here—this skirt is all bought and paid for and guaranteed not to shrink, so keep your big feet off it."

Vivian was shouting something to Nathie in Latin and Virginia Fox was laughing hysterically at Bizeau's difficulties with Temple. Everyone was mumbling all at once and the noise just seemed to wash over me in annoying waves. Gee whiz, they can't even let a gal sleep in this class—Oh, well, isn't that school for you!

Between times the poor teacher has to attempt to drum knowledge into our skulls. I was feeling pretty sorry for the teacher when I was pulled out of my daze very quickly. Miss Philpot was disgustingly asking me the theme of the story we had read. Isn't that just like a teacher? They never appreciate me. Oh, well, I'll just beat around the bush like Rosalie does, until she finally calls on someone else. Then—ring! Oh, saved by the bell! Thank goodness. On to the next nightmare.

AT THE AUCTION

One day Miss Hepzibah Heppelwhite, who was an ardent follower of auctions, had a date to meet her mother at an auction. Arriving first, she saved a seat for her mother. All during the auction of rather antiquated junk, she kept her eye on the door where her mother would enter.

Just as she had finally settled herself, a battered grandfather's clock went up on the block. As the people kept bidding she couldn't help wondering how anyone could be so stupid as to pay such an outrageous price for the clock. About the time the bidding began to slow down, she saw her mother come through the door. It was then that she made the unfortunate mistake of waving her hand to her mother. "Sold! And, Miss Heppelwhite, I congratulate you!"

She had acquired a grandfather's clock for the paltry sum of a hundred and fifty dollars.

LITTLE AMY

At the door of the old ramshackle house stood a blue uniformed girl talking to a weatherbeaten old woman.

"Good morning. My name is Alicia Kent, and I am the district nurse. I was making my regular calls in this neighborhood and Mrs. Lane, across the road, said that your little girl was ill. I wondered if I could see her. Maybe I could be of some help."

"Oh, my little Amy is not ill. She is crippled and has to lie in bed all the time," explained Mrs. Luce, completely flustered. "But, won't you come in? She loves to have people call and see her."

"Who is it, mother?" I heard this question from a childlike voice somewhere inside the house.

"It's someone to see you, Amy," replied her mother.

I was shown into the house and into a little room with one window, but as I stepped through the door, cheeriness seemed to prevail in the room. On the bed was a little blond-haired girl with the sweetest smile that I had ever seen.

"Hello, Amy. I am Miss Kent and I have come to see you. Some of your friends said that you were ill, so I came to see for myself. I thought I might help you."

"Oh, Miss Kent," said the little girl in a voice that wrung my heart. "I can't walk; that is all that is the matter. Doctors say I will never walk, but it doesn't matter. I have my friends and my pets."

"I think I know of a little doll that would be just the thing for you. I am going now, but tomorrow I will bring it to you," said Miss Kent as she left the room.

Outside in the hall, Alicia asked the woman, "Isn't there any hope at all? Have you had many doctors?"

"There is only one place, the doctors say, where my child might be cured, but it is out of the question," answered Mrs. Luce in a trembling voice.

"Where is this place, Mrs. Luce?" questioned Alicia swiftly.

"It is the Leahy Clinic in Boston, but it is impossible. It costs too much money and I would not have her be a charity patient. Besides, a cure isn't guaranteed. She will be in casts for months. She is used to lying in bed, because she was born a cripple. I've thought about it a lot, but I can't do it," sobbed Mrs. Luce.

"Mrs. Luce, I know how you feel. I presume Amy doesn't know about this. Why don't you tell her and see what she says, Mrs. Luce? Charity is not what it used to be. She could go to the clinic and it wouldn't cost you very much, even if you paid all the bills, because she could go as a trial patient for observation. Talk it over with Amy. I think you will regret it if you don't. I'll be back tomorrow and I hope you have the right answer for me. Good-bye, Mrs. Luce."

That night Alicia prayed that Mrs. Luce would change her mind, because it tore her heart to see little Amy lying there with that beautiful smile and not being able to get out and play like others.

Bright and early the next morning Alicia was back with Amy and her mother. Both mother and daughter smiled happily when Alicia came in. Amy settled the question for Alicia.

"I'm going to get well, Miss Kent. Mother says I can go to Boston and that we can get the money somehow. Mother says that it will hurt awfully, but I don't care if I can get well. The only reason she didn't tell me before was because she didn't want to hurt me any more. I am going just as soon as everything is arranged. Oh, Miss Kent, if it hadn't been for you I might be here in this bed the rest of my life. Thank you, Miss Kent, and thanks for bringing the doll."

Alicia had forgotten the doll she had brought and now formally presented it to Amy.

All the thanks Alicia needed was the sweet smiles of Mrs. Luce and Amy. Everything was sure to turn out all right.

EX LIBRIS

THE CHIANGS OF CHINA

By Elmer T. Clark

Charles Jones Soon was born in the village of Weichan, off the south coast of Kwangton, a province in China, in 1886. He was born of humble parents, but Charles became great. When he was only nine years old, he was sent with a brother to India. Three years later he became an apprentice in his uncle's tea and silk shop in China. Charles did not like this work. One day two Chinese students dropped in and Charles learned of the glories of American education. He ran away and joined the Coast Guard. One of his officers was very religious, and Charlie was influenced by him to become a Christian. Charlie joined the Fifth Street Methodist Episcopal Church. Charlie's real name was Chiai-Chun, but in America he changed it to Charles Jones Soon and made it famous.

On June 9, 1881 he entered Trinity College and his Sunday School paid his board, the college the rest. He made a satisfactory record and was able to enter Vanderbilt University. He became a minister and preached in many places in America.

His outstanding characteristics were his ability to learn and to do his work well. He had a wonderful personality, and everyone liked him. His only interest was in becoming a Christian minister.

He returned to China and took up ministry there. His Chinese friends did not understand him. They called him "two foreign devils," a giant and a dwarf. Soon married Miss Ne Kevei-Tseng, who was also a Christian.

They had three daughters, all of whom attended Wellesley College and married famous men of China. There were also three more children, one of whom is well known as T. V. Soong, the other two daughters are not as well known in America today—Mayling married Chiang Kai-shek; Chingling married Dr. Sun Yat-sen. T. V. Soong attended Harvard and graduated in 1915.

Charlie was always in danger during the Chinese Revolution. He had established himself in Shanghai and became a good business man. He was a respected and successful business man, an educated man, and a teacher.

WILL ROGERS

By P. J. O'Brien

Will Rogers was born in Calemore, Oklahoma, in 1879, the son of Clement Van and Mary Rogers. His mother was Irish, with some Indian, and his father was Indian and a mixture of Irish and French.

During his childhood he learned to ride horses and learned to do stunts. In his youth he went to South America to rope cattle, and traveled around on his father's money until he was twenty-five. Then he settled down for a while.

His education was of the high school variety and he could have had a degree from any college after he became famous.

His outstanding characteristics were his smile and his unruly hair, which never would stay in place.

He had a very fine personality and he had many friends. Nothing ever seemed to make him unhappy. His interests were polo, charities and ranching on his ranch in Santa Monica. His pet charities were the Red Cross, the Crippled Children's Home and the people that were victims of floods and earthquakes. He was always happy to do anything he could for them.

He started out in vaudeville, but worked himself up to being in the movies and achieved worldwide fame.

After he married Betty Blake in 1908, he led a full, rich life. He loved airplanes and had many pilots as friends. It was by airplane that he was killed in 1935 while undertaking a flight around the world in the shortest time. They were fifteen miles south of Port Barrow in the Arctic when something went wrong with the engine and they plunged to their death in the Arctic ice.

He was noted for his good humor, his witty jokes, and for giving to the poor. The people who had bit parts in his movies were treated the same as the King of Belgium would have been. It was because of this that he had so many friends.

IN A DARK GARDEN

By Frank G. Slaughter

The time of this story is during the Civil War in the United States. The chief character, a surgeon, is in England at the beginning of the war, but most of the story takes place in America. The surgeon is a southerner by birth but he has to make a decision between helping the North or the South. The doctor feels it is his duty to offer his services to the Confederacy and returns to America to do so. There he finds that the woman he married in England is an agent of the Unionists. Before coming to America the doctor studied in England and Europe and astonished England's great doctors by performing amputations without having gangrene set in, resulting in death to the patient.

The plot was mostly man against man. The surgeon and chief character, Julian Chisholm, struggles with his own will in deciding which side to work for as a surgeon in the war. He marries a woman in England in hopes of forgetting the woman he loves in America. Then he goes onto the battlefield, hoping to forget them both.

The chief character was Julian Chisholm, who thought more of his own duty to his country and of the saving of lives than of his love affairs, which showed his unselfishness. He was patient with other people, kind to his assistants and thoughtful of his lady friends. Other characters were his lady friends, one being his wife, Jane Anderson. She won the doctor's love in a very indirect way, offering him money for his trip from England to America if he would marry her.

The book gave a very interesting account of the war and the miracles performed by a surgeon.

JUNIOR CLASS

How wonderful it is to be a Junior! The first day of school we trudged up the hill, thinking that it would be only one more year before we would come up that hill for the last time.

Inside the schoolhouse all we could see were new people trying to find their way around. We looked around, trying to find our homeroom. We didn't have to look very far, for on the auditorium door was the notice saying "Junior Class." We are getting to dislike that auditorium. We have had it for three years and we would like a change very much.

We certainly have a large class! Forty-two members, with Mr. Pippin as our homeroom teacher.

Our class officers were elected last spring, so we didn't have that to do this year. They are: President, Charles Russell; Vice-President, Kenneth Hughes; Secretary, Arvene Ham, and Treasurer, Kenneth Pelkie.

None of the Juniors are idle. They are all well represented in athletics or clubs, as the following data will prove:

Boys' Basketball: Ashley Parker, Linwood Wheeler, Charles Sherburne, Raymond Lucas (assistant manager), Raymond Braley, Roger Jordan, Harvey Martin, Kenneth Hughes, and Edmund Seekins.

Girls' Basketball: Mary Bragg, Colleen Stromback, Gladys Sherburne, Marie Smith, and Arvene Ham.

Student Council: Edmund Seekins, Arvene Ham, Charles Russell, and Linwood Wheeler.

Athletic Association: Linwood Wheeler, Kenneth Pelkie, and Ashley Parker.

F. F. A.: Kenneth Pelkie, Thomas Gee, Philip Estes, Paul Neal, James Snow, Roger Jordan, Raymond Lucas, Harold Duran, Harvey Martin, and Donn MacLauchlan.

French Club: Colleen Stromback, Patricia Perry, Winifred Mower, Janet Seekins, Geraldine Martin, Mary Fisher, Arvene Ham, Gwenith Neal, and Kenneth Hughes.

Winter Sports: Donn MacLauchlan, David Tibbets, Kenneth Hughes, Harold Duran, and Maynard Yakemore.

Baseball: James Snow, Paul Neal, Kenneth Pelkie, Linwood Wheeler, Edmund Seekins, Raymond Lucas, Philip Estes, and Roger Jordan.

Debating: Harold Duran, Donn MacLauchlan, George Quimby, and Helene Withee.

Latin Club: Kenneth Hughes.

Cross Country: Justin Humphrey (manager), David Tibbets, and Harold Duran.

Hacomec Club: Mary Bragg, Eleanor Coolen, Ruth Fox, Arvene Ham, Hilda

Wade, Geraldine Martin, Winifred Mower, Patricia Perry, Colleen Stromback, Janet Seekins, Helene Withee, Marie Smith, and Alta Smith.

There will also be candidates for track this spring.

Those selected for Junior Prize Speaking are: Arvene Ham, Mary Fisher, Ruth Fox, Ruth Page, Harold Duran, Philip Estes, Linwood Wheeler, James Snow. George Quimby is the alternate.

At the close of the basketball season we expect to sponsor the Junior Prom.

Although we enjoy the position of importance that we hold in the school, we are all waiting for the day when we can proudly say "We are Seniors."

SUB-FRESHMAN

In the fall of 1946 we entered Hartland Academy as the Sub-Freshman Class. There were twenty-two of us then. We were sorry to have Richard Braley, who joined us in October, leave soon afterwards, and to have Chelsea Tozier leave us in November. In December, however, Arnold Halford became a member of our class, which brought our class membership back to twenty-two.

In a few weeks time we had elected the following class officers: President, Webster Baird; Vice-President, Linea Pearson; Secretary, Joan Morgan; Treasurer, Harold Carson.

On the first of November we filled the auditorium with thrills and chills when we put on a Halloween assembly program and presented a play, "The Soft-Hearted Ghost."

Our class has been well represented on the cub basketball teams. On the girls' team are: Marjorie McDougal, Joan Morgan, Joan Wyman, Linea Pearson, Patricia Bragg, Gwendolyn Wright, and Priscilla Estes. On the boys' team are: Webster Baird, Harold Carson, Clifton Russell, Raymond Martin, Edward Hall, Wayne Libby, and Edwin Littlefield.

All in all, our first year at H. A. has been a pleasant one.

Second Row—R. Nichols, E. Seekins, R. Randlett, H. Hersey, J. Mills, L. Wheeler, W. Baird.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of 1946-47 got into action at the first of the school year under the same setup as last year. The first meeting was held on October 7, 1946. The following officers were elected to preside over the meetings: President, Richard Mower; Vice-President, Arvene Ham; Secretary, Mary Chapman; Treasurer, Charles Russell. It was decided to assemble every other Monday in Room 3 to discuss and make decisions upon any problems which might confront the council.

Last year an Athletic Association was established by a decision made by the Student Council. Because of the establishment of the association, problems have been fewer for the council. The association attends to all problems concerning athletics, which in previous years was taken care of by the Student Council.

The council decided not to purchase a motion picture projector with the magazine money this year, but to spend the money for any emergency which might occur.

Other problems of less importance have also been taken up by the Student Council this year and as the year advances we hope to really accomplish something.

Mary Chapman '47

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association, organized late in the spring of 1946, got under way again this year by electing officers to replace those who were graduated last June. The present officers are: President, Kenneth Pelkie; Vice-President, Blaine Mower; Secretary, Ina McCorquindale; Treasurer, Lyda Spaulding. The representatives are: Track, Richard Mower; baseball, Linwood Wheeler; softball, Ruth Ena Brittain; cross country, Hubert Hersey; girls' varsity basketball, Diana Webber; boys' varsity basketball, Ashley Parker; boys' cubs, Albert Stromback; girls' cubs, Marilyn Brooker; winter sports, Pauline Wheeler.

The meetings are held every other Monday afternoon in Room 3.

This association takes care of all problems pertaining to athletics and there certainly are a lot of them.

The association, after many heated discussions, decided to start the season with a budget of five hundred dollars and allotted each team fifty dollars. We divided the sports up into ten teams, with basketball making up four teams.

We also had two bleachers built so that our many basketball fans could sit down when they came to the games.

The association passed a rule that anyone going out for sports must purchase a student ticket at two dollars. Happily, everybody did, because we didn't want to deprive anyone of the pleasure of a sport because he didn't have the money.

Another thing we have done this year is organize a squad of cheerleaders. We purchased their uniforms and we think they have done a marvelous job for their first year. They certainly help out at the games.

The Athletic Association receives the proceeds from the coke machine that was installed last year. If we didn't have that coke machine we would have plenty of headaches trying to keep within our budget.

Here's hoping the Athletic Association of Hartland Academy will always remain on top and that free speech will always prevail at their meetings.

The Debating Club is composed of fifteen members, with Leslie Duran, president, and Hubert Hersey, secretary. The other members are: Maria Lancaster, Vivian Morgan, Clara Burden, Beverly Davis, Rita Bunker, Helene Withee, Natalie Clement, Mildred Carson, Harold Duran, Donn McLauchlan, Dale McLauchlan, George Quimby, and Nathalie Estes. Mr. Pippin is the coach.

The subject for debate this year is: Resolved, That the Federal Government shall provide a system of complete free medical care available to all citizens at public expense.

A very successful debate was held in the assembly period and the following debated: George Quimby, Harold Duran, and Donn McLauchlan, who upheld the affirmative, and Leslie Duran and Hubert Hersey, who upheld the negative. Vivian Morgan acted as moderator and Nathalie Estes as timekeeper. The negative side won the debate.

A practice debate was held at M. C. I. on February 27th, with the M. C. I. debaters winning the debate. Hubert Hersey, Leslie Duran, and Donn McLauchlan represented Hartland Academy. There will be a return debate at Hartland.

The club is also planning to hold a practice debate at Skowhegan and there will be a return debate. By the end of March we shall have debated Foxcroft Academy and also Madison High School in the Bates Interscholastic League.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club was reorganized in October, 1946. Thirty-one members were enrolled.

At the second meeting the following officers were elected: President, Arvene Ham; Vice-President, Nathalie Estes; Secretary, Clara Burden; Treasurer, Richard Randlett; Chairman of the Program Committee, Colleen Stromback.

It was voted to hold the meetings every other Thursday in Room 2. It was also voted that we would keep the same constitution as in the previous year.

For activities at our meetings it was decided to present some French plays and to participate in some French games.

An evening meeting was held on February 12, 1947 at the Home Economics building in honor of Valentine's Day. Prizes were given for the prettiest valentine and the most clever verse. Games were played and refreshments were served.

At our final meeting it is planned to observe French Night, at which time an all-French meal will be enjoyed by the members.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club of Hartland Academy commenced another year under the guidance of Miss Brewer.

In place of officers the club elected a director, Patricia Lord, and two assistants, Janet Seekins and Winifred Mower.

Meetings are held every other Tuesday, with an amusing program one meeting and a discussion of drama the next.

At some of the meetings we studied the differences between good and poor plays, plot structure, and we also discussed how to choose plays for different occasions. At one meeting the play, "Riders to the Sea," by John Millington

Synge, was read and the good and bad points were discussed.

Our most interesting meeting was on "grease paint." We did one make-up, making a young person into an elderly spinster and then into a cheerful, friendly matron by the use of lines and other finishing touches. This knowledge was very useful in the making up of the characters in the Senior play.

A play, "Ask Nancy!" was put on as the club's assembly program in April.

The remaining activities will include play production and direction, and choral readings.

HACOMECLUB

The Hacomec Club of 1946-47 held its first meeting on September 17. The club, under the supervision of its advisor, Mrs. Bubar, elected the following officers: President, Ruth Fox; Vice-President, Mary Ellen Stilson; Secretary, Diana Webber; Treasurer, Patricia Perry.

The club met every other Thursday, with a good attendance of its fifty-one members. Thus far they have had an installation of their officers, which was held at the Home Economics building on the evening of October 15, and a hike and weenie roast.

They have also presented an assembly program and have sponsored a White Christmas dance. At the latter a large decorated Christmas tree in the center of the gym and smaller trees in the corners attracted the attention of all. Girls dressed as cigarette girls sold corsages and popcorn balls. It was a successful dance and everyone seemed to have a good time.

The members are: M. Bizeau, E. Blackden, M. Bragg, M. Brooker, M. Carson, P. Carson, M. Chapman, N. Clement, F. Cool, E. Coolen, N. Estes, R. Fox, B. Goforth, R. Gordon, A. Ham, M. Hart, J. FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

On October 16, 1946 the F. F. A. held an evening meeting. At this meeting some of the boys were elected for officers. They are: President, Kenneth Pelkie; Vice-President, Thomas Gee; Secretary, Philip Estes; Treasurer, Earl Jones; Reporter, Stanley Dyer, and Farm Watchdog, Royce Temple. At this same meeting seven boys were raised to the degree of Future Farmers.

There has been one evening meeting every month and one or two afternoon meetings.

To raise money for our F. F. A. Chapter, we have made Christmas wreaths and hatched chicks.

We have also made bleachers for use at the basketball games.

It is our opinion that the Future Farmers of America is a worthwhile organization, for at our meetings we combine work with fun.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The basketball season started with only one varsity member. However, with a vast number of second team members left over from last year, the team developed with a slam and a bang.

We lost our first league game but came through with flying colors on the rest to clinch the Central Maine tournament and win the trophy.

The first team was composed of the following girls: Pauline Wheeler, Gladys Sherburne, Colleen Stromback, Diana Webber, Ruth Ena Brittain, and Marie Smith.

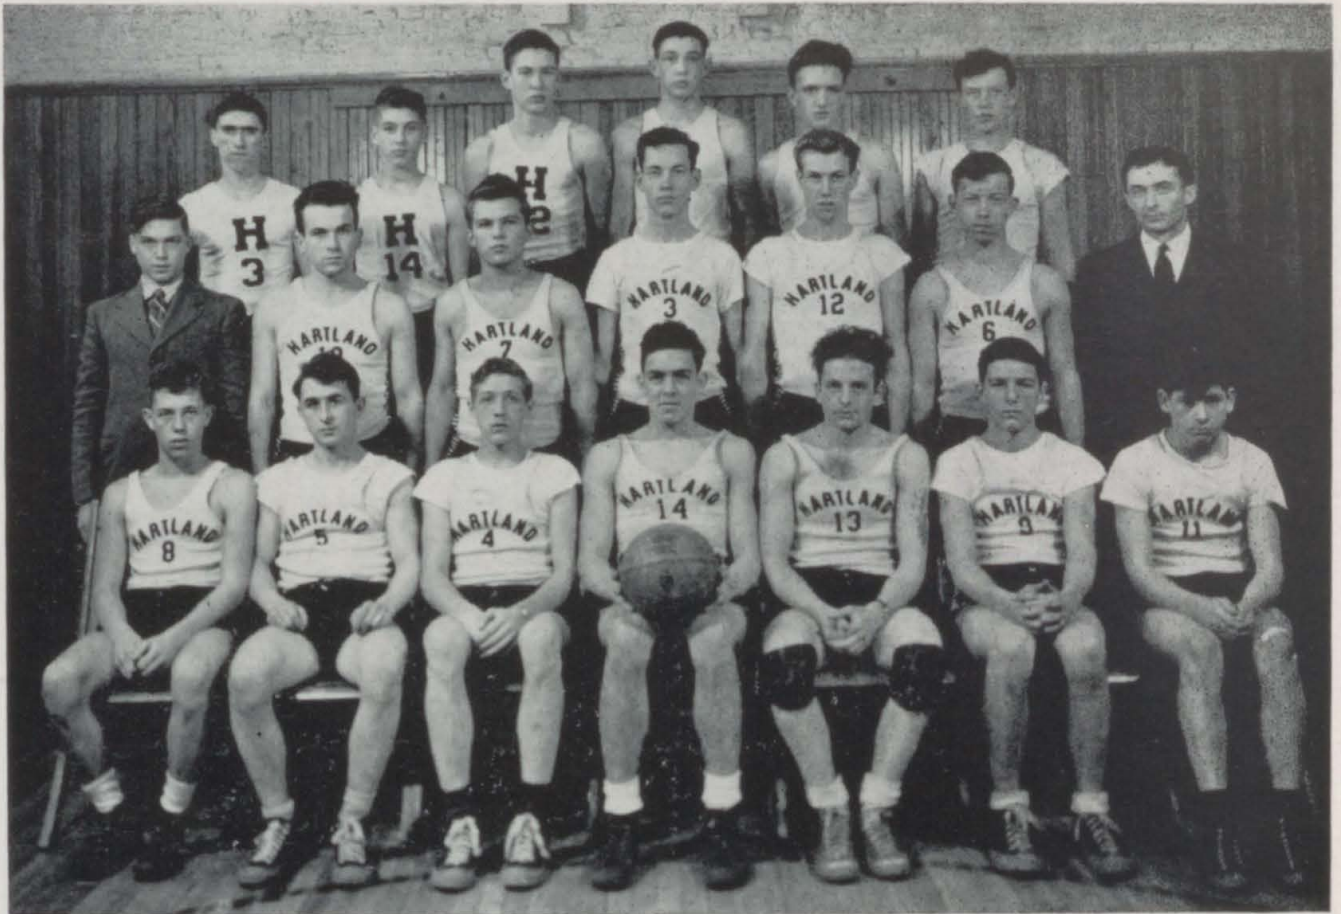

Due to the excellent management of Lyda Spaulding, we lost no valuables and kept our records straight.

We were fortunate in having Mrs. Bubar coach us again this year.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

We started our basketball season with twenty boys out for the sport. We had regular practice for three weeks and then started our schedule.

We had a good season, which was filled with many thrills. We earned second place in our league. We received a berth in the Central League tournament, but was eliminated in the semi-finals by Carmel, the league champions. Mr. Bubar, our coach, put us through some tough practices and helped us very much in our games. We lose only one letterman next season. This letterman is sharpshooter Frederick Towle.

The boys out for basketball this season were as follows: A. Parker, F. Towle, C. Sherburne, R. Nichols, L. Wheeler, S. Dyer, R. Temple, I. Pearson, G. Baker, I. Estes, T. Morgan, R. Braley, L. Cookson, R. Jordan, R. Randlett, E. Seekins, H. Stedman, and R.

The members of the first team are: Joann Southard, Marilyn Brooker, Faye Cool, Linea Pearson, Natalie Clement, and Patricia Carson.

The coach was Mr. Pippin, and the manager was Ruth Sherburne.

There are 22 girls on the cub team and they all look forward to another successful year.

Members of the first team are as follows:

CHEERLEADERS

A cheerleading squad of girls was organized this year, with Miss Morse as our coach.

We supported both boys' and girls' teams by cheering at every game.

Uniforms were bought by the Athletic Association. They are black sweaters with a white "H" on the back, white dickeys, and black skirts with the white letters "HARTLAND" stitched diagonally down the front.

Letters will be awarded to the Freshman and Sophomore girls and numerals to the Sub-Freshmen who earn them.

The squad consists of ten girls, namely: Vivian Morgan, Nathalie Estes, Maria Lancaster, Evelyn Lawrence, Faye Cool, Sally Lucas, Natalie Clements, Patricia Carson, Beverly Neal, and Linea Pearson.

With the experience gained this year, we are hoping to have a better team in the years to come.

CROSS COUNTRY

The cross country team started this season with a fine group of runners. Our coach, Mr. Bubar, did an excellent job of keeping the boys in condition and urging them on when the going was a little difficult. Aided by our captain, Hubert Hersey, we had a very successful season. Our manager, Justin Humphrey, was always on the spot and kept the team's uniforms in order.

The order and outcome of our meets were as follows:

At Pittsfield—M. C. I.	39	Hartland	17
At Hartland—Lee	33	Hartland	22
At Old Town—Old Town	26	Hartland	29
At Lee—Lee	29	Hartland	27

At Hartland—M. C. I.	24	Hartland	31

We entered in the State Meet in the prep school division. Although we were competing with the elements, which were some very excellent teams, we took third place in this meet. The seven boys who ran in this meet all received medals. Two additional medals were given to our coach and to our manager. Mr. Bubar showed the same sportsmanship as the team he coached by giving his well earned medal to Ivan Estes, one of our best runners, who was sick at home at the time of the State Meet.

To sum it up, we won five meets and lost two.

BASEBALL

We had a good season in baseball last spring. We started out with about thirty boys. After about two weeks of practice we had our first game with Hermon. The boys chosen for the first team were: Arthur Chapman, pitcher; Edmund Seekins, catcher; Jack Neal, first base; Linwood Wheeler, second base; Howard Salley, third base; Raymond Lucas, shortstop; Allan Thorne, rightfield; James Snow, centerfield; Paul Neal, leftfield. Our coach was Mr. Pip-pin.

Here is a list of the games in the order that they were played:

Hermon	7	Hartland	9
Newport	7	Hartland	5
East Corinth	4	Hartland	10
Corinna	9	Hartland	2
Hermon	7	Hartland	11
Corinna	4	Hartland	7
Newport	3	Hartland	15
Carmel	3	Hartland	33
East Corinth	5	Hartland	14
Carmel	0	Hartland	3

After defeating Carmel we were tied for first place with Corinna. It was decided that we would play Corinna at Dexter to determine which team would win the championship. After three innings of play we led by a score of 4-0. However, Corinna soon got four runs to tie up the game. At the last of the seventh inning Corinna led us by a score of 9-8. We failed to get a run in the last inning, so Corinna defeated us 9-8.

We have lost only two first team boys, so we hope we can have a successful season next spring.

Linwood Wheeler '48

SOFTBALL

The girls of Hartland Academy came all out for the '45-'46 softball team. The days were sunny and spring was in the air. Although the team lost more games than it won, throughout the season it maintained great confidence in itself. The games, for the most part, were exciting. Everyone remembers when the team went to Skowhegan and showed them that no school could walk over H. A. a second time. The two scores showed a marked difference, the first being 28-9, the second 10-2.

The league games were close and the team gave its closest rival, Newport, a beating when that team played on our home diamond. The score was Hartland 21, Newport 18. Hermon took Hartland over to win the championship. This gave them superiority in two sports. Hartland was more determined than ever to defeat them in '47, or bust. Another close game was with Corinna, which we won with a score of 13-8. It was a fitting game all the way. Then the team took over Carmel 25-3. This Carmel team were grand sports about the terrific score.

The girls who helped Mrs. Bubar make their team a success were R. Brittain, R. Page, P. Wheeler, B. Goforth, R. Fox, M. Hughes, M. Spaulding, D. Webber, and the manager, M. Hart.

Anything that looks like a new car for Mr. Bubar

Some sand for the Academy hill so you won't break your neck when you try to get up over it.

An electric train for "Ricky." Mr. Pippin plays with the one he has so much that Ricky never gets a chance.

More spare time for the teachers.

A new microphone so that the teachers won't go to sleep during assembly programs.

A bombproof laboratory so that H. A.'s mad scientists won't blow off the roof.

WHEN I GROW UP

(Dedicated to the Freshmen)

Anonymous

I'd like to be an engineer
And build some bridges long
I'd like to be an artist
Or write a lonely song.

I'd like to be a model,
Or an actress or a cop—
It's always been my wish to
Toot a horn and holler "stop!"

I'd like to be a doctor
And cure folks of their ills.
I'd like to be a pharmacist
And make up fancy pills.

I think I'll be a poet
And work with ink and pen,
But I'd love to walk a tightrope,
So here we go again.

I'd like to do some mission work
And teach the golden rule,
But I think what I had better do
Is—graduate from school.

JOKES

R. Fox: "What did you do to your forehead?"

R. Mower: "I bit myself."

R. Fox: "Hey, stupid, you couldn't reach it."

R. Mower: "I stood on a chair."

V. Fox: Weren't you excited when he brought you all those expensive presents?

C. Stromback: No, I just remained calm and collected.

Mr. Bubar: I have often been compared to Clark Gable.

T. Gee: By whom?

Mr. Bubar: My wife. She seems to prefer Gable.

T. Hersey: Where Mr. Dummer comes from, the cucumbers are so big that they have to make special barrels for them.

L. Duran: Huh, that's nothing. Where I come from, all they have to do is pile them on the flat cars and then there is an overhang of three feet on each end.

Miss Brewer: "Didn't you have a period at the end of this sentence?"

A. Chapman: "I don't see any. I guess Jim must have taken it when he borrowed my paper."

R. Brittain: "I can't find words to express my indignation."

I. Pearson: "Then why get wild when I say you are stupid?"

Mr. Dummer: What pine has the longest and shortest needles?

R. Parker: The porcupine.

Miss Brewer: Tom, come up here and give me what you have in your mouth.

T. Gee: I wish I could. I've got a toothache.

V. Fox: Did you go to Christina's shower, Lloyd?

L. Cookson: No, I believe in letting girls take a bath in peace.

Miss Morse: What is a polygon?

M. Yakemore: A departed parrot.

L. Barden: Can you keep a secret?

M. Hart: I'll tell the world.

Mrs. Bubar: It looks like a storm. You had better stay for dinner.

Mr. Pippin: Oh, thank you, but I don't think it's bad enough for that?

R. Mower: I feel like socking Blaine again.

A. Thorne: What do you mean again?

R. Mower: I felt like doing it once before.

A. Parker: Why don't you like girls?

D. Tibbets: They are too biased.

A. Parker: Biased?

D. Tibbets: Yes. Bias this and bias that and in no time you are broke.

F. Gould: Where can I get a job?

P. Estes: I know where you can get a job, but you need a pull to get it.

F. Gould: Where's that?

P. Estes: Milking cows for dad.

Teacher: "Harold, how much is four take away two?"

H. Carson: "I don't know."

Teacher: "Then, how many apples would you have if you had four apples and ate two of them?"

H. Carson: "Four."

Teacher: "How do you get that?"

H. Carson: "Two on the outside and two on the inside."

A. Thorne: Have a good time at the dentist?

P. Wheeler: No, I was bored to tears.

F. Morrison (just before class): You wouldn't punish me for something I haven't done, would you?

Miss Morse: Certainly not. What haven't you done?

F. Morrison: My homework.

Frank Raymond and Douglas Moore went hunting one day. A flock of birds flew over and Frank shot at them and one fell to the ground.

Douglas, in amazement: Why did you shoot it?

Frank: The fall would have killed it anyway.

Mr. Pippin (in world history class): Raymond, what was an uncrowned king in England?

Raymond: I don't know. One who hasn't been crowned, I guess.

Pat Perry (in a restaurant): Waiter, there's a splinter in my cottage cheese.

The waiter replied: What do you want for a dime—the whole cottage?

Mother: Buster! Have you lost your tooth?

Buster: No, I have it in my pocket.

A man went to the drugstore and forgot the name of the medicine he was sent for.

"What does it sound like?" asked the druggist.

"It sounds like a long city."

"Well, let's see," mused the druggist. "London — Chicago — San Francisco — Liverpool—"

"That's it!" said the little man. "Carter's Little Liverpools!"

Mr. Dummer (in biology class): What is the biological term for a prune?

R. Parker: A plum that has seen better days.

Mrs. Bubar: I would like some cigarettes for my husband.

Clerk: Cash?

Mrs. Bubar: Yes, if that's better than tobacco.
